

Omega — Investor Narrative (Opening)

90-Second Opening Narrative

Thanks for taking the time. I'll keep this tight. Omega is a studio-first AI product company. We already deliver high-ticket AI solutions for businesses — including AI receptionists and automations — and that revenue funds our product engine: Omega AI Builder, a Replit-level platform that turns a single prompt into a full, production-ready codebase with live preview and export. Most AI dev tools generate snippets. We deliver end-to-end: build, edit, deploy — in one workspace. The studio isn't a side hustle; it's a strategic advantage. It gives us cash flow, distribution, real workflows, and case studies that feed the platform. This is a two-engine model: cash flow now plus scalable platform later. If we execute GTM properly, we can reach $1–10M+ ARR within 12 months by combining studio deals with platform subscriptions and usage credits. We're raising $2.5M to scale the studio pipeline, harden the runtime infrastructure, and ship the Replit-level MVP. The goal is simple: own the AI-first workflow layer for modern product development.
